“Happy 5th Anniversary, Dave”

Allow me to share a few thoughts with you as a former youth minister and a dad.

This Sunday we will recognize the 5th anniversary of Dave Oakley's call to serve as Minister of Youth and Children of Broadmoor Baptist Church.

It has been a joy to serve alongside Dave these last 5 years. It is obvious to me that he has a heart for young people and for them to grow in their faith and knowledge of the Lord.

Working with youth and children in this day and age is not as simple as it may seem. There are so many different things vying for their attention and time. Most of those things are great and wonderful opportunities for kids and youth to build character, talents, and abilities. Dave understands this and the need for our children and youth to embrace such opportunities. He understands the importance of building relationships with and among our young people.

My oldest loves being around his friends, and it's great to see that these friends come in many different ages. He gets to be an example for younger youth, he gets to enjoy the company and friendship of those his age, and he has older friends he can look up to and respect. I would personally like to thank Dave for developing such a community for him.

My youngest thinks

Dave is just the coolest, perhaps even cooler than me, which is probably the case. Seriously though, I am convinced that his sweet and gentle spirit is what draws Stella to him.

I want to charge all of our parents of children and youth to encourage their kids to be a part of a ministry that has always been very dear and important to our church. As a former youth minister and as a parent, Dave has my utmost respect as a minister and a role model for my kids. I think we can all agree that our kids and teens need someone such as he in their lives in this day and age.

Thank you Dave and Sam, Eli, Taylor, and Sadie for being a part of this church family, for being a part of my family, and for your influence in the lives of all of our kids.

See you and your kids on Sunday.

Bobby

And please feel free to contact us to share anything that may be on your heart. Be assured that all communications will be held in the strictest confidence.

NEW DEACON INTRODUCTION

My name is James Gilley. I am the son of Wendy and Dwight Gilley, and older brother to Katie. I have been a member of this wonderful church for most of my life, joining when I was ten years old. You could say that I grew up here, having been a highly active member of the Youth. You might recognize me from sitting in the front row of the choir.

I am a professor at LSU, teaching International Studies, Comparative Politics, and International Relations. I have recently earned my PhD in Political Science from LSU. I study the interaction of technology and society, and am currently engaged in a project concerning the colonization of Mars. In my spare time I love to cook, and look forward to preparing the meals for the upcoming "Meet Me at Luigi's".

Like many young people, I have spent time away from the church, but it is always the loving and caring people that make up this church that bring me back. I love this church, from my time teaching middle school Sunday School, leading the college bible study, chaperoning Youth trips, to singing in the choir. This church has taken me and my family in, as flawed and broken as we may be.

As has often been said to me in the past few weeks, the church picks the people who are already being deacons to become deacons. I am truly humbled to have been selected and ordained by you, my church family. It is my honor and pleasure for me to serve as your deacon.
