THIS SUNDAY WEAR FIRE COLORS (RED, ORANGE, YELLOW) TO REPRESENT THE HOLY SPIRIT FOR PENTECOST!

"Somebody's Watching"

Some of you will remember the 1980s song by Rockwell that goes, "I always feel like somebody's watching me ..." In my sermon last Sunday, I told a story told by a grandmother whose grandson had started wearing aftershave lotion. He was only eight years old, but his schoolteacher said the scent was so strong, it was all she could do to stay in the classroom with him! When asked why the boy had started wearing aftershave lotion, the grandmother replied that he had been watching his father, who puts it on everyday after he shaves.

During his sophomore year, my son was accepted into a program at his school called Thesis. He would spend his last two years in high school researching a topic of his interest, about which he would write a major paper (Thesis) and deliver as a Ted Talk before students, faculty, administration, and parents. He developed his paper from a topic that had been stirring in him for years, manifesting at times as a new language he had written, the study of a foreign language (often an obscure language), studies of ancient cultures, and a focus on modern-day Eastern European history, cultures, and languages. As the day of his lecture approached, I asked him what he thought was the reason for his interests in foreign and ancient languages and cultures. He said, "Do you remember years ago, when I was a little kid, you used to play that music CD you brought home from Lebanon? And I would be in the back seat of the car when you played the Lebanese music?"

On Sunday, I made the point that, in order to know what our father – or mother – does or says, we have to spend time with them, live close to them, pay attention to them. Often, such intimacy is revealed by imitation – a child imitating her mother or father, a student imitating his teacher or professor, an apprentice imitating her mentor, a fan imitating his favorite athlete or singer. Wearing what they wear, talking the way they talk, singing the way they sing, and so on.

Jesus spoke about such intimacy between Himself and His "Father" that if you were to see Him, you would also see God. To hear Jesus and to witness his actions was to hear God and see God. Furthermore, it would manifest as imitation. In John 17, Jesus prayed that future believers, like us, would live so closely with God that we, too, would imitate God in word and deed.

"I always feel like somebody's watching me." Who is watching us . . . as we are watching God? Are we?

GET INVOLVED

LLL

LLL is trying to see if there is interest in going on a motorcoach trip to the Ark Encounter & Creation Museum. We would go in the spring of 2026. Cost $950. 10 meals: 6 breakfast and 4 dinners. 7-days 6-night. Office has brochures. If you might be interested, please let church office know. We will have a meeting in August to answer all your questions if enough interested.

The Rise and Fall of Biblical Isreal

Join us on Thursdays in Common Grounds Cafe from 10A-11P beginning May 22, for an eight-session series on the history of the rise and fall of biblical Israel. This video series will be led by Dr. Joel Baden, Professor of Hebrew Bible at Yale Divinity School. It is open to any and all interested but is also in conjunction with our current Bible Study on "How the Bible Was Made." For more information, please contact Dr. Ezell in the Church Office.

Rare Opportunity: Learn Hebrew!

"Introduction to Hebrew" Sundays from 4-6pm (with a break). Please bring paper and a pen/pencil and join us in the Church Conference Room. If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Ezell in the Church Office.
